Experience Since 1974, Mr. Levitt has been a principal of his own firm. His over 30 years experience in architecture and planning has included a variety of assignments from educational facilities to multi-use projects to master planned communities. His inherent creativity combined with exceptional leadership and management skills provide his clients with innovative and successful, on schedule and often, under budget results to each project.

A unique "hands-on" approach has produced many successful projects for the clients of The Levitt Group. Mr. Levitt's expertise and leadership leads each project from conception through completion including entitlements, design, technical documentation, bidding and construction management.

Mr. Levitt is unique because of his personal commitment to each project. Mr. Levitt oversees the leadership responsibilities for the entitlements, technical documentation, bidding and construction management but fully participates in the other phases of each project. Mr. Levitt has the ability to bring all of the components of a project together while maintaining the demands of the client, the design and the budget.
